

Research on the service system of 'aging in place' by integrated care

Yifan YANG, Deputy Director National Interdisciplinary Institute on Aging (NIIA), Southwest Jiaotong University, China

GIS Provincial China: Aged Society

China's elderly population aged over 60 reached 220 million, of which over 65 years old population reached 143.74 million, accounting for 10.47% of the total population.

Data from the national 1% population sample survey in 2015

Family planning policy, population movements and intergenerational relations

The '4-2-1' family structure

The unique value

①

make up for the weakening of family care functions

② avoid the weaknesses of institutional care

③ ease the hospital's medical pressure