

Presentation of the book
« Néolibéralisme et éducation »

Sacha VARIN

Ph.D.

What should be the policies and means to achieve SDG 4 (education)?

- implement a truly global approach.
Logically, it could be summarized like this :
- a) specify the objective that UNESCO gives
- b) tell (imagine , explain) what would be done to achieve this goal
- c) estimate costs
- d) identify fundings
- e) Define some standardized indicators to be able to see the progress

Should education mostly increase a country's productivity, economic growth, national competitiveness and make school and university leavers better fit for the labour market?

- if education is understood as basic elementary, primary and secondary education
- my answer is NO
- propose another recommendation : Developing philosophically activities (i.e. Michel TOZZI)

Should education be considered a private or public good available free of charge or be based on fee-paying tuition?

- If education is a fundamental “good”, access to it should be open free to all.
- the work of Thomas PIKETTY is showing something interesting